

A Rich Heritage Behind Our Name

In 1991, amidst a rapidly changing technology landscape, a small group of private equity investors saw opportunity and executed on it by melding the core competencies and talented people of several niche technology companies.

Initially, the investors acquired three highly unique and promising technology companies which were eventually consolidated and collectively became known as Mindteck:

Hardware and embedded software company in India

Software design, development and maintenance company in the UK

Software development staffing company in the US (New York Tri-State)

Over the years, through an organic growth strategy and prudent acquisitions, four additional companies were added to enhance service capabilities in various domains:

Business applications company in Singapore

Software consulting services company in the US (Texas)

IT consulting companies in the US (California and Pennsylvania)

Business applications consulting and managed services company in the US (New Jersey)

Global Headquarters in Bengaluru, India

From our earliest days, we have grown and prospered in a world dominated by far larger technology companies.

Our strength lies in our niche knowledge across important domains, long-standing relationships with a top-tier clientele around the globe, a mindful approach, and a strong track record of providing highly customized services and solutions.
